Mardi Gras Dance Party Saturday Feb 10 7:30 pm

Chester Gras comes to Rock Hall! The one and only Dixie Power Trio brings their soulful New Orleans style jazz back to The Mainstay. The dance floor will be open, but there will also be plenty of seating for listeners. Masks will be available at the door. The event is presented by The Peoples Bank and Chester River Revelers Mardi Gras Krewe. Net ticket proceeds will benefit the Kent County Food Pantry's Backpack Program. All tickets $20

U of D Jazz Ensemble Sunday Feb 18 4:00 pm

Come celebrate Mainstay founder Tom McHugh's 80th birthday with the University of Delaware Jazz Ensemble. This is a big band, with 18 players for the show. Musicians compete for positions in the band and come from the university's strong music department and a wide variety of other majors and programs. Guest soloist will be New York City-based Todd Groves, who performs on saxophones, flutes, clarinets, recorders and ethnic flutes. Admission is free but donations for the band's expenses are requested.

L'abri Trio Sunday Feb 25 4:00 pm

Welcome to Peabody at The Mainstay as the Hedgelawn Classical Music Series returns! Presenting some of the most exciting young musicians attending the Peabody Conservatory and sponsored by the Hedgelawn Foundation. The L'abri Trio invites you to "the most exciting chamber music in the 21st century." Comprised currently of saxophonist Kenny Baik, cellist Mauricio Rey Gallego, and pianist Bonghee Lee. All tickets $15.

Shirleta Settles Saturday March 3 7:00 pm

When Shirleta Settles sings, EVERYONE listens! Equally at home with blues, jazz, gospel, soul and R&B, she embodies what it is to be the consummate musician and entertainer. She has traveled the world, sharing her gift for music and story at festivals, concert halls and clubs. Shirleta makes a deep connection with audiences, who become an active part of the party she throws wherever she goes. From the American Songbook to Motown to hits of the last twenty years, Shirleta brings songs to life in a way that few artists can. Tickets $18 online or $20 by phone or at the door.

The High and Wides Saturday March 10 8:00 pm

The High and Wides hark back to the days when lines blurred between bluegrass, country, boogie, blues, rockabilly and western swing. The band features three veterans of the long-time Eastern Shore bluegrass band Chester River Runoff: Marc Dykeman on guitar and vocals, Sam Guthridge on banjo/mandolin and vocals, and Nate Grower on fiddle. They are joined by jazz bassist Mike Buccino. The High and Wides perform a wide assortment of material, all of which is informed by their years of playing bluegrass at clubs and festivals up and down the East Coast. $15 online or $18 by phone or at the door.

Trio Jinx Sunday March 11 4:00 pm

The second Peabody at The Mainstay concert in the Hedgelawn Classical Music Series. This afternoon we present Trio Jinx, playing concerts of classical music spiced with dashes of folk, jazz and improvisation. They are Ledah Finck on violin and viola, Louna Dekker-Vargas on flutes, and Yoshiaki Horiguchi on double bass. All three are alum of the Imani Winds Chamber Music Festival in New York City, graduates of Peabody Institute, and proud to call Baltimore their musical and artistic home. All tickets $15.

The Mainstay is economizing and you can help! Please consider receiving all future concert info by email instead of by printed and stamped mail. Just send an email and say "No More Paper" to info@mainstayrockhall.org
